

What will you bring to our table?

With over 265,000 employees worldwide and factory locations in more than 85 countries, Nestlé is a truly multinational, multicultural company. We believe in diversity in both our internal hiring practices and our supplier relationships, because diversity is one source of our competitive advantage.

Nestlé is committed to establishing and growing successful business relationships with increasing numbers of qualified and certified minority, woman and veteran-owned suppliers, as well as those businesses that are Federally defined as a Small Business or located in Historically Underutilized Business Zones (HUBZones). Fulfilling this commitment is important to our customers, our increasingly diverse consumer base, the communities in which we operate, and ultimately, to the success of our company.

If you are interested in becoming a Nestlé supplier, please visit <https://app.suppliergateway.com/nestle> to register as a Diverse Supplier. We highly recommend that you visit our various Nestlé Web sites to become familiar with our brands and products. This can help you determine how your company can supply Nestlé's needs.
